

Splitting Tables

Tables can be split into two separate tables. This may be required if you accidentally get two tables to close together. Tables will combine (see merging table) if there is not body text between them.

To split a table, place your cursor in the row that you want the split to be just above. The contextual table ribbon will appear. On the layout tab in the Merge group, click the Split Table command.

The table will split just above the current row selection. A paragraph mark with the Normal style will be inserted.

One	Two	Three	Four
		Split

The table above was split by splitting the table with the cursor in the cell that reads Split.

One	Two	Three	Four

		Split	