
Merging Tables

Occasionally a table will be split by accident. Since the graphics are inside Tables, this means that the action caption might be split from the Graphic. Combining tables is easy.

First you must get them on the same page. The easiest way to do this is to place a temporary page breaks prior to the top half of the table.

After the tables are on the same page, click the Show/Hide command to show all codes so that you can see a paragraph mark between the two tables.

Place your cursor before the paragraph mark and click delete. The two tables will be combine one. This will work even if the tables are different sizes.
